What should I bring to SLU 101?

We recommend you bring your Bible and pen, personal hygiene items, clothes (see Dress Guidelines below), reusable water bottle, money (you may want to bring spending money for the merge table, snacks, souvenirs, etc.). It is often cold in the meeting room, so you may want to pack a sweatshirt or light jacket for sessions.

What if I have dietary restrictions or food allergies?

Click here to submit dietary needs or food allergies. This should be submitted to SLU no later than 45 days before the program begins. If something comes up after registration, you can update your registration information up to 15 days before the program begins. Please be sure to offer specifics on what you cannot eat and what can be substituted. We will make every effort to accommodate, but there may be certain times in this not possible. We recommend that you also bring some foods or snacks with you that are in compliance with your dietary needs.

Do I need to bring a medical release form?

- Group leaders should bring a medical release form for any minors attending without a parent/guardian. Medical forms must empower the group leader not SLU to authorize medical treatment for the students you are bringing to the program. You do not need to turn these into SLU Staff, but they should remain with you.

What should I wear to SLU 101?

SLU strives to set students up in such a way that they will have the confidence and wisdom to walk into any room and be prepared for whatever is before them. We believe that how you present yourself is a vital part in that. The dress code is not meant to put a negative light on the students' experience but to help train each one of them on the importance of dressing appropriately in any situation. To set our attendees up for success, we have established a few guidelines that will help everyone dress for the occasion.

As you are preparing and packing, know that the expectation of the conference is that students and adult leaders dress in business casual for the conference sessions.

General Guidelines:

- Students and adult leaders will ensure that their shirts fully cover the front, back, sides and are not overly tight. Sleeveless tops are suitable if the strap fully covers the shoulder.
- Students and adult leaders will ensure that their shorts, skirts, and dresses are an appropriate length and are not overly short (think fingertip length or longer).
- For conference session: students and adult leaders are expected to dress in "conference casual". "Conference casual" means the following:
  - For men: jeans, dress pants, or khaki pants with a collared short-sleeved shirt, button-down, or a nice t-shirt should be worn.
  - For ladies: skirts and casual dresses that meet the length requirement may be worn. Jeans or dress pants with a blouse or nice t-shirt may be worn.
  - Athletic wear such as gym shorts, leggings, or athletic tank tops are not considered business casual.

These dress guidelines apply to all parts of the conference experience and applies to both students and adult leaders. If anyone chooses to dress outside of these guidelines, he/she will be asked to change. We know that the same item of clothing can look different on different people, so we have established these guidelines to empower our attendees to make wise choices for themselves as they prepare for the conference. If you have any questions about this, feel free to reach out!

Why are there dress guidelines at SLU 101?

SLU 101 is a different experience than what many students may have encountered before. We are not a camp; we are a leadership conference. Our dress guidelines are established to give you an idea of what we expect from attendees, as well as to give you an idea of how the conference will look and feel.

Who communicates the dress guidelines to young leaders?

By attending SLU, you are partnering with our organization. We ask that in this partnership, you inform your students and ask that they abide by the guidelines.
